

Flux

international / poetry / post whether in dream or 'awake' believe what u see and don't see but always allow doubt to surgically examine ur beliefs as that process ensures the reality of what u either imagine or see and when u See, integrity -- objective and subjective -- is ur reward as integrity saves us from folly, fantasy and torture

so how does this obvious doubting reality save us all from self-induced slavery/misery?

doubting everything presented ensures inquiry/analysis, and pursued inquiry results in awareness and knowledge, not as presented or given but discovered for urself so why the title, 'Flux'? indeed, why?

well, if u have the ability to pursue everything presented with doubt/analysis to the end, u must arrive at Truth as all persistent inquiry leads to Truth, infinite or finite dependent on what u are doubting/analysing, and be assured nothing is hidden from this type of inquiry as there are really no secrets in existence at the 'end' of this process we discover the only reality is flux, as stasis (the formulated) the static, is dead, a self-evident lie, as infinite existence is kinetic, never the same from instant to instant as infinity is supremely Creative (moving) now try to locate urself as an entity/identity in infinite flux, u cannot, u are only able to locate urself in mapped (by culture) social spaces as in a name, nation, etc; and as is evident those fixed/mapped spaces are a LIE as they are static fixed locations and formulated, hence culture is a conglomeration of Lies, fantasies, myths and deceit, intentional and unintentional

i am not the first or last as it has been said, 'seek and you will find,' the meaning of which is presented above; and by consequence if u believe me or anything presented u have failed urself and ur entire life tho u would remain in a shared cultural dream but never reality until u wake to the Reality of flux/Creation, as distinct from blind belief -- everything here encoded is able to be tested by you; and if u have the discipline, courage and mental stamina u would discover/realise God/Truth/Infinity for urself so it becomes plain that belief in anything given/presented, religion, science, whatever, is supreme stupidity -- any/all fixed beliefs are a prison as belief automatically censors the New infinite process (Reality/flux) and maintains a fixed, dead, dogmatic point of view which denies the Living ever new reality

so, are u stupid, delusional, a coward or a hero? real life devoid of all belief results in infinite consciousness but it requires courage put simply belief denies the scintillating Truth of existence/God/Reality and a life insulated from Reality/Truth/God is a living hell

Peace
