

from beyond

i am aware of you
though i know u are beyond the reach of my five senses

of course
we are not limited
by the sphere we inhabit,
i remember

so where r u?
a lingering memory
or living reality,
what form do u take?

yes,
u are right again,
the form that i choose
at any given time,
u happily inhabit

u were never fussed
like the bimbos that spend half their lives preening in front of mirrors

appearances are not important u are with me
as u promised -- presence
life is never extinguished though bodies fall
like autumn leaves
life continues uninterrupted while embodied u once appeared to me as a flood of light,

pure love
no form or body
just light

heavy with qualities

u have led me outside
myself again
or maybe inside
but location is irrelevant

u are right
presence is only worthy of recognition

found again
