

Futility

international / poetry / post

it's inconsequential,
of no account, or of
meaningless effect,
why do you persist?

this obsessive repetition is surely a sign of insanity/humanity

attacking my persona is futile, as it has very little relation to me so deft i am at creating images and personalities that oft times i forget which name i am using this persona is so well crafted that everyone

mistakes it for me

it serves me well,
now for instance
all your attempts
to disturb and hurt
are in vain,
you have not directed
your poisonous darts
and toxic venom
at the correct target,
you silly little girl

[i would give everything to the last stitch i am wearing just to meet
one well-adjusted
woman --
you must be out there
somewhere!]
