

Pools

dark pools
are special, [they are] located
in diverse areas from urban forest to desert

fed by rivers, streams, rain or subterranean
water sources

from the surface
they appear like any other pool formed by natural
water sources
but natural is as far from what they are,
as hell is from heaven

they are portals,
doorways to other
worlds/dimensions

first they must be recognised
then a confluence of astronomical and terrestrial events must occur
to trigger the portal

but that is not all of it -
one must also know
the sound/word
or 'name' associated with each pool
before any tunnel
reveals itself

the name or word
has a twofold effect, it protects against entities that wish to enter

our realm
but opens access from our dimension to others

when approaching these dark pools it is important not to become fascinated,
their reflective power
is hypnotic and captivating entities are watching and assessing, if u become enamoured by ur own reflection
u create
a channel to urself,
be warned
many narcissists
have become completely obsessed and wander
our towns and cities
searching for something they have lost
