Sitting alone
with my loneliness
no-one is here
but the sound of silence

Talking with old friends, darkness and cold,
offering my hands for them to hold true friends who never leave me forsaken and alone while others say, hello and go

All my life i was looking for friends yet they were here but i could not see, I always tried to run away though these friends were made for me now i know my true friends, darkness and this killer cold i have given my life to them come to me .. and let me hold ..
